SKINKER-DeBALIVIERE NEIGHBORHOOD

The Skinker DeBaliviere neighborhood's history is deeply rooted in neighboring Forest Park which was the site of the legendary 1904 World's Fair.

Today, the community continues to be one of the most vital and livable neighborhoods in the metropolitan area thanks to the dedication of it's residents and institutions.

Quiet tree-lined streets and close proximity to Washington University's Hilltop campus and popular Central West End and Loop areas make Skinker DeBaliviere the perfect choice for people seeking the excitement of urban life and the peace and quiet afforded by smaller, tight-knit communities.
